Q1: County specific
[introduction to survey. Empty]

Q2 General Text:

We will begin by asking you a few questions about your organisation's political and/or advocacy activities during the pandemic. Let us start with how much of your organisation's time and resources were used to work on political topics related to Covid-19 at different points in time. What is your estimate of the percentage of your organisation's overall political and advocacy work that has directly focused on these Covid-related policies?

Note on definition of political topics related to Covid-19: These topics include all policy directly related to Covid-19 (i.e. health and safety measures, closing or opening of sectors, securing of help and economic support packages, vaccination programs) and also instances where another agenda is explicitly linked to Covid-19 (i.e. climate-friendly Covid-19 policies).

| Question number | Question Label | Answer Category |
|-----------------|---|-------------------|
| Q2_1 | Percentage of political and advocacy work on Covid-related issues during the first 3 months of the pandemic (March-June 2020) | Slider: 0 – 100 % |

Q4 General Text:

Still with these Covid-related issues in mind, we would like to know to which extent your organisation's engagement on these topics was mostly proactive or reactive. Using the box below, please indicate to which extent your work on Covid-related issues was more reactive or proactive on a scale from 0 to 10 where 5 means an equal split.

Note on definition: Proactive engagement includes bringing new issues to the attention of policymakers, whereas reactive engagement responds to policymakers' decisions.

Q32 General Text:

You have now reached the final part of this survey. We now present you with a hypothetical future scenario concerning working on a non-Covid-related policy issue which is relevant for your organisation. Please read through the scenario carefully and try to imagine the situation as if you were actually experiencing it. Consider a policy issue that is very important for your organisation, but which is hard to place on the agenda at the moment. An NGO with expertise on the issue approaches you, suggesting to work together on the issue in a political campaign based on your shared goals. You have previous connections to the organisation and based on inquiries in your network, you have heard positive accounts of others who have worked with this organisation.

Please read through the scenario carefully and try to imagine the situation as if you were actually experiencing it. Consider a policy issue that is very important for your organisation, but which is hard to place on the agenda at the moment. A Business association with expertise on the issue approaches you, suggesting to work together on the issue in a political campaign based on your shared goals. You have previous connections to the organisation and based on inquiries in your network, you have heard positive accounts of others who have worked with this organisation.
